TOYOTA YARIS - COUNTRY OF MANUFACTURE IDENTIFICATION

The Toyota Yaris is manufactured in two locations - France, and Japan. Whilst many of the components are the same for both versions, in some instances there are significant differences between components used, and in these instances it is necessary to identify where the vehicle was manufactured. The instructions below explain how to do so.

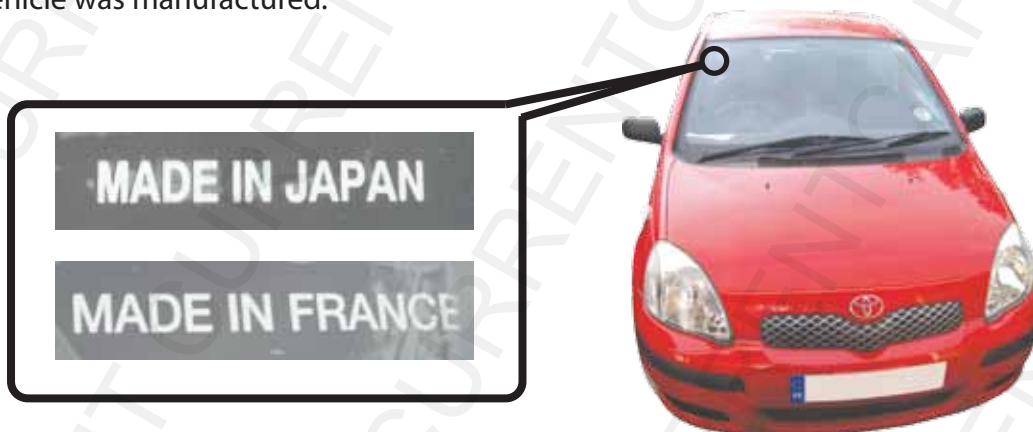

There are currently two versions of the Toyota Yaris on the road; Mk I (1999 - 2005) and Mk II (2006 >).

PLEASE NOTE:

The registration mark does not offer an assurance of date of manufacture. Please check the vehicle against the images below. The most notable difference is the shape of the headlights.

TOYOTA YARIS MK I (04/1999 - 12/2005)

There is a label in the top corner of the windscreen above the drivers seat which easily and clearly confirms where the vehicle was manufactured.

TOYOTA YARIS MK II (01/2006 >)

The Vehicle Identification Number (VIN) identifies where the vehicle was made. This can be found on the door sill inside the passenger side door. If the VIN starts with JTD, the vehicle was made in Japan. If the VIN starts with VNK, it was built in France.

If you require any further information on the above then please do not hesitate to contact a member of the CCL team.
